Lesson Plan Title/Info:	Lesson Plan - Lesson 6: Reformation: What Needed Fixed? is Number 6 of 11 in Unit Plan - The Influence of European Movements on the American Revolution.
Creator:	Judy Massey jmassey4@comcast.net
Subject:	Social Studies
Grade Level:	Ninth Grade
Essential Questions:	Would you consider Martin Luther's actions revolutionary? How do you think the world would be different if Martin Luther had not lived?
Student Disposition:	Students will understand how dangerous it was for anyone to challenge the status of the Catholic Church. Students will begin to piece together why Europeans were beginning to question society and what could be done to make things better.
Activating Prior Knowledge Through Introduction/Sponge:	Start off the class by asking students to comment on the primary sources they read yesterday. Ask students about difficulties they had interpreting the primary sources. Talk about how languages and writing have changed some over time.
Vocabulary Development:	Organize students into Pair/Share Groups and have students discuss what the word "condemn" means with regard to the Catholic Church.
Classroom Management/Instructional Strategies:	Have student divide into two groups: those who think Martin Luther should be condemned and those who do not think Martin Luther should be condemned. Give them time to discuss why they chose the side they did as a group. Give students a copy of the Debate Rubric . Explain how you will evaluate their debate skills. Have them argue their points in a debate setting. After debate, ask students if any of them would like to change which side they are on. Require them to give you a reason for changing their mind before they can move. Discuss with the class how this time period was a troubling time for Europeans. Many people did not know what to think of the religious turmoil that came out of Luther's challenges. Europe ends up fighting religious wars over these problems. Follow Exit Strategy.
